Mont St. Michel is a prominent object in the wide expanse of sand forming the bay of the same name. It is a mass of rock 180 feet high, covered with quaint mediaeval houses and surmounted by an Abbey founded by Aubert, Bishop of Avranches, in the 8th century. The Abbey was subsequently used as a Fortress and State Prison and in 1874 was declared a "Monument Historique" and preserved by the State as a show place.
